DESCRIPTION

Students spend four weeks as sub-interns on the Family Medicine inpatient service. During this time they carry the full ward responsibility of an intern on one-half the number of patients usually carried by an intern. The sub-internship is designed to improve clinical competence and to prepare the students for the challenges and demands of the internship. This course meets the requirements of a sub-internship experience set forth by UCI School of Medicine.

PREREQUISITES

This course is intended for 4th-year students enrolled in the undergraduate medical education program at University of California, Irvine School of Medicine (UCISOM).

RESTRICTIONS

COURSE DIRECTOR

Dr. Kolahi has worked in medical education since 2015. She received her medical degree from University at Buffalo in New York and completed her family medicine residency at the University of San Francisco – Fresno. She is part of the UCI Medicine Hospitalist Division as well as UCI Family Medicine Department with an area of concentration in reproductive health.

COMMUNICATION WITH FACULTY

Questions about logistics should be directed to the Course Coordinator. Direct questions, comments, or concerns about the course can be directed to the Course Director. Contact information and office location are at the beginning of this document.

The Course Director is also available to meet in person. Please email oseguedj@hs.uci.edu to arrange an appointment. To ensure that your email will not be lost in the large volume of email received, please use the following convention for the subject line:

SUBJECT: 625Q, your last name, your issue (e.g. 625Q, Smith, Request for appointment)

EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES:

Participating students will work with the family medicine hospitalist and resident physicians to manage patients admitted to the family medicine service. The sub-intern will function in a role similar to that of the family medicine intern – including taking night, weekend and holiday, except that the sub-intern will follow no more than four patients at a time. The family medicine service admits patients every day, focusing primarily on adult inpatient care but also including pediatric inpatient care and family-centered maternity care (labor and delivery, postpartum care and newborn care). Sub-interns will pre-round on their patients before morning rounds with the family medicine team, attend noon conferences of the Department of Family Medicine, write notes and take responsibility for their patients' daily care, and attend daily inpatient teaching rounds that include journal clubs and other didactic sessions. Each sub-intern will give a presentation to the ward team about a topic important to inpatient family medicine.

Expectations: The sub-I, or acting intern, will be expected to write daily notes, write and pend orders, and present their patients independently on rounds. They will staff their patients with the senior resident or attending, or the team interns during the second half of the year. The acting intern will be expected to carry a patient load similar to an intern and will be the “first contact” for nurses and staff regarding their patients.
